

STATE BUYS LAND IN THIS COUNTY

Purchases 20,000 Acres in Oneida and Vilas for For- estry Reserve

The state has added 20,000 acres to its forestry reserve by the purchase of land in Oneida and Vilas counties owned by the Land, Log & Lumber company of Milwaukee. The document of sale is signed by Edward Bradley of Milwaukee, and by B. F. Wilson of Wausau, secretary. These lands were cut over nearly twenty years ago, and the state has been negotiating for the purchase of these tracts, including nearly two townships, over a year past. The other large sale this year will be concluded in a few days, when the H. W. Wright Lumber company of Merrill will transfer 16,000 acres of cut-over land in Vilas county to the state. The lands of the Land, Log & Lumber company will purchase for $1.50 an acre.

Aside from these two large purchases the forestry reserves have been increased this year by 500 acres of land in the form of 250 small islands in island waters in the northern one-third part of the state. The forestry reserve is now composed of about 100,000 acres of land, not including the lands held by the state for sale to be used for agricultural purposes.

At the present time the state owns from 80,000 to 90,000 acres of agricultural land scattered over Northern Wisconsin.

HURT IN COLLAPSE OF NEW BUILDING

H. Evenson Sustains Injuries And Workmen Have Close Calls at Minocqua

Henry Evenson, a leading Minocqua business man, was badly hurt and several workmen had narrow escapes from injury and death when a two story brick building in the process of construction collapsed Tuesday afternoon at Minocqua. The structure was being built by Mr. Evenson and was to have been occupied by him as a hardware store. It was nearly completed and, laborers were doing the interior finishing when the accident occurred. What caused the collapse is not definitely known.

When the building began to give way Mr. Evenson was standing on the sidewalk near the front entrance. He was struck by falling brick and debris. It is reported that he sustained severe scalp wounds and broken ribs. The workmen managed to reach places of safety just as the building fell.

OWNS FAST PACER

Pat Keenan's Horse, Macksey K., is Getting the Money

Few if any Rhinelander people know that Pat Keenan of this city is the owner of a race horse that is raking off first money wherever he whirls around the track. Such, however, is a fact. Mr. Keenan's pacer Macksey K won two races at Black River Fall and took first prize in a race at the Wausau fair. In the latter event the time was 2:21 on a muddy track. $400 was the purse. Gust Johnson, a well known horse trainer is driving Macksey K. This week the horse is at Chippewa Falls.

Mr. Keenan, who is an admirer of fast horses, paid a handsome sum for Macksey K but says that no one could buy the horse from him now.

MAKES QUICK ARREST

Sheriff Crofoot Captures Man 9 Hours After Crime

Carl Kosamba was arrested by Sheriff Crofoot in Pembine at five o'clock Sunday morning on a charge of robbing $50 from the person of Mike Kosia. Kosamba's hearing was adjourned until Saturday.

The robbery is alleged to have taken place on the Soo tracks one mile west of the city at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Kosamba and Kosia were walking from Headford Junction.

Kosamba boarded a Soo train and went to Pembine where he was traced by Sheriff Crofoot and placed under arrest less than nine hours after the crime. It was a quick capture and the sheriff is to be congratulated.

PERKINS TRAINS TO MEET GODFREY

Rhineland Boxer Is Getting In Shape At Milwaukee Gymnasium

Down in Barakle's gymnasium Milwaukee, Billy Perkins, the idol of local boxing fans, is going through a tough course of sprouts in training for his big battle with Godfrey of Washburn in this city, Friday night Sept. 27. With Perkins this is to be no pink tea affair and he means to make the boy from the head of the lakes do the Rip Van Winkle act within the ten rounds scheduled. In his training Perkins is sparring with all the best boxers in the bear city and will be in fine trim when he enters the ring. This will be a bout worth seeing and is attracting the attention of sporting men throughout this part of the state. There will no doubt be a large delegation of strangers at the ringside.

The Perkins-Godfrey mill is being staged by Wm. Daniels, who never yet has disappointed the fans when he promised them a good show. He has arranged for two or three minor mixes before the main event and an unusually strong card is assured. The regular prices will prevail.

INDIANS SCALP GASTON'S TEAM

Odanah Takes Two Straight Games Tuesday and Wed- nesday Here

Tuesday afternoon at the fair grounds the Odanah Indians defeated Gaston's Colts by a score of 6 to 5 in one of the most interesting and closely contested base ball games of the season.

Deakin was the box for Rhinelander and he was in splendid form. He put up one of the classic exhibitions of twirling seen in the city this year and would have won only for wobbly support at critical times. Vaughan at the receiving station was very effective, holding the base runners glued to the bag. Rhinelander secured nine hits while the Indians only got five. The red skins played a good clean game. Their appearance on the diamond proved a novelty to the crowd there being many present who had never seen Indians play base ball before. They were one of the features of the fair.

Batteries: Odanah, Bost, Grant and Pernock. Rhinelander, Deakin and Vaughan. Umpire, Roller.

Indians Win Again
The Indians again won from Rhinelander yesterday by a score of 5 to 2. It was a well played game, both teams showing great form. Chas. Bellfield umpired.

FIRST AIR-CRAFT SOARS OVER CITY

Barlow Makes Successful Flights in His Curtiss Bi- Plane At Fair

Wednesday will go down in the history of this city as the day which witnessed the first airplane flight ever made here. In future years when these strange crafts of the air become as common as automobiles now are the young people of today will look back with vivid recollections to the time when the first bird-man soared over Rhinelander.

Barlow, of Los Angeles, Cal., in his Curtiss bi-plane made two successful flights yesterday afternoon. He made his point of ascension at the fair grounds and sailed over the business district of the city, returning to the grounds. In his second flight he went southwest from the grounds and return. It is estimated that the machine was up about 2,000 feet at its greatest height and traveled 15 miles. As the bi-plane sailed smoothly through space it resembled a monster hawk and sent a thrill through the thousands who watched the fearless aviator. It was by far the biggest and best attraction ever seen at an Oneida county fair.

Barlow will make two more flights today. He is one of the Curtiss company's most skillful and daring aviators.

DEATH TAKES ONLY CHILD

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ramsey Mourn Their Daughter Esther

The mantle of sorrow cast itself over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ramsey last Friday when death took from them their only child, Esther May, aged 13 years. The little girl was ill but one day, her ailment being diagnosed as diabetes. So suddenly came the death that the parents could scarcely realize that their darling was no more. Their grief is pitiable and the mother is in a state bordering on prostration. To them is extended the sincere sympathy of the community.

Esther was a bright child dearly beloved by her schoolmates and teachers. She had just entered the Freshman class at the High school. Her death is a sad blow to all.

The funeral was held from the residence Tuesday afternoon, Rev. G. Clark, officiated. Schoolmates of Esther were pall bearers and flower girls. Relatives present from out of the city were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ramsey, Hazelhurst; Miss May Ramsey, Oakkosh; Mrs. A. Shady, Oakkosh; Mrs. E. Peachy and family, J. D. Fields and family, and Miss Fields, Fond du Lac; Wm. Fields, and family, Bear Creek.

FORMER LIBRARIAN HERE

Miss May Smith formerly of the Rhinelander library and now head of the Madison public library was in town from Thursday until Monday last, the guest of Mrs. A. W. Shelton. Miss Smith had been spending her vacation among the woods of Door county and was on her way home. She went to Eau Claire from here; it will be remembered that when Miss Smith left the Rhinelander library, it was to take a position at the head of the Eau Claire library.

PROMENADE AT QUINLINS'

The model promenade at the Quinlin millinery parlors Saturday proved an innovation in the manner of displaying new fall hats and gowns in this city. It was an effective way of advertising and throughout the day the parlors were thronged with visitors.

Alex Krembs and A. M. Coppes of Stevens Point are in the city today. Mr. Krembs was at one time employed as prescription clerk at Reardon's drug store. He has for several years been the owner of the leading pharmacy in Stevens Point.

INSPECT NEW ROAD

County Board Members See Construc- tion Work Today

Tuesday afternoon the county board convened and at once adjourned until Wednesday morning to enable the members to attend the fair. At noon Wednesday the body adjourned until that evening. Aside from passing on the usual batch of bills little business of importance has been transacted. The board was called in session at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

This forenoon the members of the board made a trip of inspection in automobiles over the new county road now in the course of building. With but few exceptions the members expressed themselves as pleased with the work being done.

MRS. LAFOLLETTE ON EQUAL RIGHTS

Senator's Wife Impresses Hearers—Other Noted Suffragettes Speak

Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, wife of Wisconsin's famous Senator, delivered an interesting and logical address on Equal Suffrage at the fair grounds Wednesday afternoon. In the evening she also spoke before a large audience on Brown street. Mrs. LaFollette was accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Funk of Baltimore, Mrs. Glendower Evans of Boston and Mrs. Zoe Wright of Lancaster. All are ardent advocates of the cause of suffrage and spoke convincingly on the subject. Dr. and Mrs. Funk and Mrs. Evans have come to Wisconsin voluntarily and at their own expense to help the cause in this state.

Mrs. LaFollette is an able speaker and holds the attention of her hearers. She said among things, "I am a suffragist first of all because I believe in the home. If I thought that equal suffrage would lessen the obligation to the home I would not be for it." Mrs. LaFollette declared that in the United States there is not a bit of important legislation in which women and men are not equally interested and that women should have a voice in the affairs of government.

Property or other similar qualifications she declared to be undemocratic. "The essential in democracy is to make all people fit to vote and the women will do that," she said. While in California, where women enjoy equal rights she was asked why such a progressive state as Wisconsin did not have suffrage. She replied that Wisconsin would have it if this fall and added that there is no better state in the union where women are more fitted for it.

Mrs. LaFollette and the other members of her party are making a tour of the state in the interests of votes for women in Wisconsin. The question of equal suffrage as it pertains to the home, city and country state and national government are being vigorously and earnestly discussed. No speakers, it is believed, made many supporters of the cause in this city.

DECORATE AUTOS

Many auto owners of the city helped to advertise the fair and lend a touch of color to the festivities of the week by decorating their cars. Several machines were completely covered with flowers and autumn leaves and the designs were beautiful.

DEATH ENDS LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. H. LaVoy, who has for months been ill with tuberculosis died early Sunday afternoon. The end came as a relief from long suffering.

Mrs. LaVoy is survived by a husband and five children. She also leaves many friends to mourn her death.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's church, Tuesday morning. Father Bertran officiated.

D. L. Jenkinson is down from Minocqua.

Judge Grif Thomas is in the city today the guest of E. C. Sturdevant.

FAIR IS PROVING A GREAT EVENT

Weather Is Favorable and the Attendance Very Satisfactory

Favorable weather and large crowds have marked the seventeenth annual fair of the Oneida county Agricultural Society Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. In every respect the fair is proving a success. The weather man has been kind—every event on the program has been carried out according to previous announcements and there is a creditable showing of exhibits in the various departments. Wednesday was the banner attendance day, the crowd reaching the 3,000 mark. It was the largest number of people ever present on the grounds at one time. It is expected that the attendance this afternoon will be even larger than that of yesterday.

Good Display of Exhibits

The exhibits at the fair speak well for the progress Oneida county is making along agricultural lines. In fact the display is one which would command the attention of many other counties in the state. There is a good showing of vegetable, cereal, grains, grasses, poultry and live stock. In the sheds can be seen some pure bred cattle with the pedigree of each animal. These come in for a big share of attention. In the exhibition hall there is an attractive exhibition of cooking, needlework and all kinds of domestic goods. Several of the business places of the city have neatly arranged booths and there is also an exhibit from the public library. A visit to this building is interesting.

Free From Fairs

Horse racing, base ball and airplane flights are the chief amusement events of the fair. There are no fakes, gambling or cheap shows on the grounds as is often the case at county fairs. The crowds are good natured and everybody seems to be enjoying the fair immensely. The military band and Prof. Reik's band of this city are furnishing the music.

Today the Old Settlers' picnic will be held and there will be an exhibition of drilling by Company L.

In conversation with one of the officers of the Agricultural Society he stated that the association feels more than related with the success of the fair. It has exceeded their most sanguine expectations and they feel grateful for the staunch support given by the public. It is one of the greatest fairs in the history of the county.

CIRCUIT COURT NEXT WEEK

The fall term of circuit court for Oneida county will convene in this city next Monday Sept. 23. Judge Reid will preside. The calendar is rather long, there being nine criminal cases, six fact for jury cases and twelve fact for court cases.

THREE LAKES DISPLAY

Three Lakes has a fine display of farm produce and live stock at the fair. The exhibit was brought here and arranged by F. S. Campbell, Ed. Lavenjer, M. Kent and Mr. Pickett.

GUILD SUPPER

St. Augustine's Guild will serve a 35c supper at the Guild Hall on Wednesday evening Sept. 25th. This is the menu:
Baked Ham and Creamed Potatoes
Cucumbers with French Dressing
Brown Bread and Rolls.
Doughnuts and Coffee

SURPRISE THEIR FRIENDS

Miss Jessie Knudson and Art Post Wed at Minneapolis

Miss Jessie Knudson and Art Post of this city surprised their friends by quietly getting married in Minneapolis Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at Holy Trinity church by Father Stanley Kilbourne. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Post went to Antigo where they spent part of Sunday and arrived in this city Monday morning. They will reside with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knudson on the south side.

Both Mr. Post and his wife are well and favorably known in this city. She has spent practically all her life here and is a young lady with a host of friends. She is accomplished in many lines.

Mr. Post has made his home here for three years past and was a member of the former Rhinelander baseball team. He at present holds a responsible position with the Rhinelander Brewing Company. Among his friends he is held in high esteem.

To Mr. and Mrs. Post best wishes are extended for a long and happy married life.

FAIR ATTRACTS MANY STRANGERS

Hundreds of People From Near- by Towns Visit City and Spend Their Money

The Oneida county fair has been the means of attracting hundreds of strangers from the neighboring towns within a radius of forty miles to Rhinelander. The much advertised airship exhibition acted as a magnet in drawing out the people. Even towns sixty and seventy miles distant from Rhinelander contributed to the crowds. Delegations came from east and west on the Soo line and north and south on the Northwestern line to see the bird-man fly and view the other features of the fair.

In this respect the fair is of vast benefit to the merchants of the city. The strangers take the opportunity while here to do shopping and have left considerable money with the stores which they otherwise would not spend. In bonsting for the Oneida county fair one also helps to further the best interests of this city and county. It is a good thing for the community in every way.

IS HIGH CLASS COMPANY

The ever popular Flora De Voss company is filling an engagement at the Grand Opera House and as would the company is producing a repertoire of high class plays that give satisfaction. Mr. J. B. Rothour has gathered about him a troupe of talented actors and actresses. Theatergoers of Rhinelander appreciate a company of this excellent standard and the Flora De Voss company may always be assured of a cordial welcome here.

FIRE MARSHALL HERE

J. E. Kennedy, deputy state fire marshal, was in the city this week on an inspection trip. He found several places where the conditions are such as to cause danger from fire and served notice on property owners that they must remedy the same. He found the basement of one business place on Brown street piled high with waste paper and old rubbish endangering not only this property but buildings adjoining. The owner was ordered to clean up.

DISMISS DIETZ CASES

The cases against four members of the Dietz family for the murder of John Rogick were dismissed in circuit court in Eau Claire upon motion of the district attorney of Sawyer county.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN OTHER TOWNS

Items Of More Or Less Importance Boiled Down From Neighboring Exchanges

Merrill—

The new Lincoln county jail has been accepted by the county board. The building is an artistic one and is thoroughly up-to-date and when the grounds are properly terraced will be an imposing sight. $40,000 was the original fund appropriated for the construction of the jail and this amount has never been exhausted.

Eagle River—

Eagle River's new creamery plant is completed and will be ready for operation as soon as it is accepted by the stockholders. It is a model plant in every respect, equipped with the latest machinery for the manufacture of butter and ice cream. The capacity is large enough to accommodate the products of the dairy farmers in this section for many years.

Grandon—

During a sharp electrical storm, John Frawley, a Nashville resident was killed. He was asleep in his home at the time. Frawley came to this vicinity eight years ago from Kentucky. Years ago an outlaw killed Frawley's father. He took up the trail of the murderer and followed him into Virginia. A battle followed between Frawley and the desperado and Frawley was shot in several places but he succeeded in capturing the man and bringing him back to Kentucky.

Ironwood—

The first carload of machinery for the new mining district of Gogebic county arrived at Marquette last week. A large shaft is to be sunk close to the east bank of Presque Isle river, to open up ore provided by diamond drills about two years ago. Messrs. Whitehead and La Rue of Duluth have great confidence in the property and are showing their faith by the expenditures of hundreds of thousands of dollars in its development. The opening of the Copper mine means a great deal, not only to Marquette, but to the entire Gogebic range.

Gladstone—

Rumor has it that Gladstone may have large ore docks before another year passes by. If these good reports prove true, Gladstone will rank with the other lake cities of this part of Michigan. It is said the Soo has purchased the Wisconsin and Michigan railway and this purchase the Soo gets into the Menominee iron range, with Gladstone as the lake shipping port. That Gladstone has a deal harbor no one questions. Ore docks could not be located at a better point.

Clintonville—

Clintonville's electric light plant

may soon be operated by water power instead of by steam. The city is considering the proposition of utilizing the water power formerly used by the Clintonville Milling & Improvement company. It is costing the city $5000 for coal every year and water power would mean a saving of two-thirds of this amount.

Wausau—

"Is this the place to get blacklisted?" queried a young man of the chief of police as he entered the police station. The young man lives in the northeast part of the city and was accompanied by his mother.

"Who wants to get blacklisted?" asked the chief.

"I do," replied the young man.

"Who wants to have you blacklisted?" further questioned the chief.

"My mother does and I do, too," was the reply.

"Can't you quit drinking?" asked the chief.

"No, I've tried two years and can't do it," he admitted.

The chief then arranged to have cards filled out addressed to the saloonkeepers of the city, prohibiting them from selling or giving intoxicating liquors to this victim of the drink habit.

Ashland—

W. G. French was denied a grand jury Friday by Circuit Judge G. N. Risjord after a number of the signers of the petition had been called before the court and interrogated as to why they signed the petition circulated by Mr. French asking for the calling of a grand jury for Ashland county. Most of them stated that they were asked to sign the petition by Mr. French upon his request and upon his telling them the story of his alleged wrongs at the hands of certain parties at the time he was sent to prison for the murder of Calvin in 1859.

Washburn—

Com. Peavey, of the local division of the Wisconsin Naval Militia, received word Tuesday from the war department at Washington, D. C. to the effect that the cannon that has been assigned to this station was shipped from the navy yard at Washington on Sept. 4th, and in due time will arrive here and be set up. It is a three-inch rifle with a floor space of 16 feet and will be quite an attraction.

Ladysmith—

City Assessor A. J. Martin has made a statement, comparing the valuation of the city of Ladysmith this year with the valuation in 1911 from which we note that the valuation shows a raise of almost half a million. This increase will be a material help to the city, giving it more money for needed public improvement, and also resulting perhaps in a decreased tax rate.

NOTICE

City Clerk's Office, City of Rhinelander.

The assessment roll of the city of Rhinelander for the year 1912, is now in my hands and open to the public for inspection. The Board of Review has now adjourned until the 25th day of September, 1912, at 10 o'clock a. m. at which time any one may appear before said board and be heard in regard to any assessment appearing on said roll.

Given under my hand and seal of the city of Rhinelander this 11th day of September A. D. 1912.

GUST SWEDBERG, City Clerk.

HEAVY LUMBER SHIPPERS

Mason-Donaldson Sell 351 Cars In Month Of August.

The Rhinelander correspondent of the American Lumberman had the following in last week's issue of that Journal:

"Lumbermen as a rule are not complaining of business. Usually July and August are quiet, but this year all of the lumbermen have kept steadily at work pushing out lumber. Each month seems to show an increase. For instance, the books of Mason-Donaldson Lumber Co., this city, show a steady improvement in shipments from January on, except one month, March. Its August shipments amount to 351 cars, and its total shipments for the first eight months are a little over 2,500 cars, with a prospect of making the year's business 3,000 cars. This is a fair record of what an enterprising concern is doing, but it is rather more than the average Rhinelander concern is able to accomplish. The Mason-Donaldson Lumber Co. is now perhaps the heaviest shipper in this district.

EXPECT 63,000 STUDENTS.

Preparations are being completed this week at the University of Wisconsin for the opening of the sixtieth year of the institution. It is expected that fully 6,000 students will be enrolled during the academic year, an increase of half a thousand over last year.

Of the six new buildings or additions that have been in process of construction this summer only one the new biology building, will be ready for students when classes start on the twenty-sixth of the month. The new wing to the chemistry building is expected to be finished by the opening of the second semester in February, but the agricultural chemistry building, the new wing to the library, the women's dormitory, and the home economics building are not expected to be ready for occupation before the fall of 1913.

With the added space afforded by the biology building many departments that have been crowded for room during the past year will be amply provided for. The botany department, which has been occupying rooms in science hall has already moved into the new building and taken charge of the green houses.

FARM FOR SALE

About one mile from Rhinelander. Fifty-seven acres, thirty under cultivation. Excellent buildings and good soil. For further particulars enquire of Sam Walters, Rhinelander, Wis.

Miss Gusts Schultz has entered the employ of D. H. Hart at the new store. She will have charge of the suit and cloak department.

JEWISH FESTIVITIES

New Year Observance To Continue Until October 4

All orthodox Hebrews of the city are celebrating the Jewish New Year which commenced with Rosh Hashanah on Wednesday Sept. 11. Sunday was the fast of Gedaliah. Saturday Sept. 21 is Yom Kippur, and this is the last of two days.

The New Year is a feast of rejoicing. Whilst the fast of Yom Kippur is the Jewish Day of Atonement and is the most rigid fast day of the Jewish year. It is likewise observed by reform Jews in a less strict manner and with these, it is only observed for one day.

On September 26, the first day of Tabernacles is observed and on September 27, the second day of Tabernacles. On October 2, the feast of Hoshanah Rabbah is observed, on October 3 the feast of Shmini Atzereth, and on October 4, the feast of the Law. The orthodox Jews beginning with September 26, have a period of rejoicing until the Feast of the Law, October 4, while the reformed class observe only the two opening feasts and the three feasts on October 2, 3 and 4.

SEARCH FOR RELICS

J. H. Glaser and J. P. Schumacher, experienced investigators, are now engaged in conducting researches for the state society on the Ontario river in Forest and Oconto counties. They are equipped with a canoe and camping outfit and will follow the river from near Wabeno to where it enters Green Bay, a distance of 75 miles. Robert H. Becker has been a survey of the interesting Turtle creek region in Rock county. A survey of the Ripley lake region has been completed. Copies of the reports of the various investigators may be secured at the office of the state society at Madison.

NEW STORE OPENS SEPT. 28.

D. H. Hart's new dry goods and gent's furnishings store in the Reardon block on town street will open Saturday morning, September 28. The task of arranging the big stock of goods is nearing completion and everything will be in readiness for the opening day. Watch for circulars announcing the event.

GOODMAN IS GROWING.

E. A. Gifford returned to the city Sunday from Marinette and Goodman. At the latter place he was employed by the Goodman Lbr. Co. He states that the population of Goodman is hovering around the 2000 mark and the town is rapidly growing. The new chemical plant being built there will bring in many new families.

In every respect the town is live and modern. It has large stores, elegant residences, good schools, and last but not least an up-to-date moving picture theater which is crowded nightly.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to dropsy, or Bright's disease. This best endorsed remedy for weak diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of this vicinity are constantly testifying.

Mrs. A. Denoyer, Box No. 83, Hackley, Wis., says: "A member of my family was troubled by weak kidneys for ten years. He was sometimes laid up for days and could not find a remedy that would give him relief. Finally I had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply. They greatly relieved him and toned up his general health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 60 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Pat Nolan shook hands with friends in the city this week. He spent the summer at a summer resort near Mercer.

SPECIAL FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY. You can get 25 lbs. of cane sugar for $1.35 with the purchase of a 98 lb. sack of the CELEBRATED ARDEN FLOUR at the special low price of $2.90 per sack. Goldberg's, phone 156.

LEAVE FOR THE EAST

F. E. Moody, assistant state forester, and family have departed on a trip to the east. They will remain a few days in Washington, D. C., and from there will go to Mr. Moody's old home in Maine where they will make an extended visit. From there Mrs. Moody and children will go to her home in Louisville, Kentucky, to spend the winter.

Mr. Moody will be actively engaged in the University of Wisconsin the greater part of the winter and will return to the Trout Lake forest reserve next spring.

A CLOSE INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK

Will reveal its superior quality and convince you of the wide difference that really exists in lumber. You may imagine that lumber is all the same, but you were never more mistaken in your life, if you imagine that. There's as much difference between two boards that pass for the same grade as there is between a plug and a thoroughbred.

We invite a critical examination of our stock, simply because we know it to be much better than the average. QUALITY: That's our hobby. When we sell you a bill of lumber we want to know positively that you will be satisfied that you've got the best your money will buy, and will come to us when you want something else in building material.

ECZEMA THAT SPREADS

HOW A 'POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. MAN FOUND RELIEF IN SAXO SALVE.

"I had been troubled with weeping eczema for months and used many preparations for skin troubles without relief. The first application of Saxo Salve allayed the dreadful itching immediately and after further use my skin trouble entirely disappeared. Saxo Salve was just what I needed." W. H. Glynn, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

In eczema the little vesicles or pimples are filled with a fluid that burns and tortures the skin the moment they are torn open by scratching. This causes it to spread.

In such cases we can conscientiously recommend our new skin remedy, Saxo Salve, for its action on the skin in all forms of eczema and other distressing skin troubles is indeed marvelous.

If it does not help you we will return your money.

ATTENDS OLYMPIC GAMES

Ed. Hergren Cheers Americans To Victory In Stockholm

After spending the summer in Sweden, Ed. Hergren arrived in this city Saturday. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Milda Hergren, and cousin, David Johnson. Both will probably spend the winter in Rhinelander. Mr. Johnson has gone to Black River Falls to visit relatives.

Mr. Hergren had an enjoyable sojourn among relatives and friends in Dalmland, Sweden, his old home, and he also made side trips to many places of interest in that kingdom. He was in Stockholm in attendance at the great Olympic games and as a loyal subject of Uncle Sam helped to cheer the American teams to victory. He declares that the athletes from the United States clearly outclassed those of other nations in competition at the games and also found the most favor among the Swedish people. Mr. Hergren was a guest at a banquet given in Stockholm in honor of the American teams.

SOO'S DRINKING FOUNTAINS

The sanitary drinking fountains in the new Soo passenger depot are appreciated by the public as the many favorable comments regarding them would indicate. These fountains supply fresh running water constantly and the danger from disease spreading germs is entirely eliminated. It would be a benefit to the health of the community if such fountains were placed in other public buildings in the city.

DOCTOR WELCH VISITS CITY

Dr. T. R. Welch, a former prominent physician was in the city this week renewing friendships and attending the fair. Dr. Welch since leaving this city two years ago has been located at Winchester, a thriving little mill town up in Vilas county, where he is practicing his profession. The doctor was well pleased with the fair and was surprised at the progress Oneida county is making.

DANCING PARTY THURSDAY

Next Thursday night, September 25, there will be given at the Armory a dancing party for which invitations have been issued. Strnad's orchestra of Antigo will furnish the music. This orchestra has filled engagements in Rhinelander on several occasions and is popular here.

Few, if any, medicines have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have dy. The remarkable cures of colic given it a wide reputation. For sale by All Dealers.

THE NEW NORTH.

THE NEW NORTH PRINTING CO.
SEPTEMBER 19, 1912.

If you wish to know what the of Rhinelander are doing, you must take the New North. It is the official city paper. It is also the only official county paper for Oneida county. Know what is going on in your city and county.

Please pay your subscription if it is due. We aim to give you a live up to date independent newspaper. I take money to do this. This is no individual demand. This request applies to every subscriber who has been notified that he owes this office. Save us money and time by remitting promptly, we shall appreciate it.

Rhinelander was prominently represented at the republican state convention the first of the week. Douglas Anderson was made chairman of the eleventh congressional district delegation. W. T. Stevens took an active part in the discussion of the income tax law. F. A. Lowell was unanimously re-elected a member of the republican state central committee.

WHERE IS JUSTICE SHOWN?

With no desire to unkindly criticize the board of review of our city but to let the public fully understand the true conditions we write this article. When the assessor met with the board it was discovered that the total valuation is about a quarter of a million lower than a year ago and with these conditions the maximum rate of 3 1/2 per cent would not meet the expenses of the city. Instead of the boards going over the list and raising the valuation of those properties which are under assessed, they directed the assessor to recopy the entire list and add a horizontal increase of five per cent to all properties irrespective of whether they were assessed at a large proportion of their value or a very small proportion. We are satisfied in our own mind that this action is unjust and illegal. It is a case again where the small tax payer with a little home gets the worst of it. We are in a position to know that the plants of some corporations are assessed at less than twenty-five per cent of their real valuation whereas the homes are assessed at sixty to seventy-five per cent of their value. We fail to see the justice of this and advise the people to appear at the next session of the board September 25th, and demand their rights. Exhibitions of this character are the very things that demand an income tax to equalize the burden of taxation.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Madison, Wis., Sept. 17. Members of the republican state central committee were selected by districts as follows:

- First district—T. C. Hendley, Beloit, Maurice Morrissey, Delevan.
- Second—A. H. Andrus, Portage; C. W. Pfeiffer, Sheboygan Falls.
- Third—Mr. Olbrich, Madison; Dr. Pierce, Dodgeville.
- Fourth—Zeno H. Host, John C. Kleeska, Milwaukee.

- Sixth—Wm. Mellette, Fond du Lac; H. L. Yecker, Oshkosh.
- Seventh—E. T. Dittmar, Baraboo; George Cooper, Black River Falls.
- Eighth—John King, Wausau; Buchanan Johnson, Plainfield.
- Ninth—H. J. Sanderson, Sturgeon Bay; B. C. Wolters, Appleton.
- Tenth—Fred Bohse, Buffalo county; J. C. Cutover, Eau Claire.
- Eleventh—F. A. Lowell, Rhinelander; A. W. Sanborn, Ashtabula.

SQUARELY FOR PEOPLE

In contrast with the extreme reactionary platform of the democratic convention at Madison the republican platform stands out conspicuous for progressive legislation all along the line. No straddle was made on any single issue as a bid for the support of any special interest. The republican party of Wisconsin goes before the people this fall with a platform breathing in even line the advanced political thought of the times. Socially and industrially the common people will find this their only hope for better conditions. We are fortunate in having candidates for state offices from the head of the ticket down who will fight unflinchingly for these principles.

The chairman of the convention, Senator Boshard, stated to the convention that Senator Robert M. LaFollette has endorsed the platform adopted and would be at the service of the state central committee to work for its principles and the candidates which represent it in the fall campaign. We propose in the near future to show the line up of the two platforms where in practically every instance the democratic platform upholds the side of the special interests and reaction, whereas the republican platform stands squarely for the people.

DEMOCRATIC PLAT-

FORM CONVENTION

The Democratic State Convention held last Tuesday repudiated the principles of Bryan and Wilson in adopting a thoroughly reactionary platform. True, the first plank of the platform "lands William J. Bryan to the sky." As Senator Hastings, the progressive democratic leader, however, put it, Bryan is leading in the first paragraph, and his teachings are repudiated in the other planks.

The big fight in the democratic convention came upon the sections of the platform dealing with the income tax and with the regulation of water power franchises. The plank adopted upon the income tax law calls for its immediate repeal, with a referendum at the next spring elections upon the question whether the people want any income tax at all. The convention repudiated the plank offered by the progressive democrats, that the present law be amended so as to correct the defects which may exist in the law before the question is referred to a referendum vote. The effect of this proposal was to give the people a chance to vote upon the best income tax law which may be drawn, and not upon the plank proposition of whether they want any income tax at all. Most clearly the reactionary stand of the democrats upon the income tax appears in the rejection of the amendment offered by Senator Hastings which the party reaffirms its belief in not meet the expenses of the city. Although the democratic state platform since 1904 has declared in favor of a graduated income tax, the amendment of Senator Hastings was almost unanimously voted down.

On the question of water power franchises the democratic platform is equally reactionary. This is not surprising since Goggin of Grand Rapids, the chief water power lobbyist in the state, was the chairman of the platform committee. How thoroughly the democratic platform is opposed to the rejection of the amendment offered by the progressives, that the party declare against the granting of perpetual franchises to water power companies. For many years not even the most rabid stalwarts have dared to come out for perpetual franchises, which cannot be amended or repealed.

C. A. Kading, democratic nominee for Attorney General, gave the best clue as to why the platform was made so completely reactionary. It was to capture the Stalwart vote. Kading said: "We are a minority party, and we ought to be glad to welcome acquisitions from any element." Sen. Hastings, however, warned the convention that the democrats could gain nothing by fusing with the Stalwarts. Hastings said: "Every time in the past where the democrats of this state have abandoned the fundamental principles of their party to cater to the supposed needs of the hour, they have been licked worse than usually. That's exactly what is going to happen this year." The convention however, hooded the progressive leader; and dared to go before the people on a stalwart platform. Senator Hastings' prediction that the people are going to repudiate the Democrat-Stalwart alliance just about suits the mark.

Changes in Egyptian Life.

Egyptians who have been educated in this country or who have been here on business trips or simply as a part of their education, are working zealously in their native land to have their wives adopt many American ideas and customs. In the last twenty-five years American influence has been felt greatly in Egypt. Many fathers in Egypt are educating their daughters to read and write English, and have encouraged them to play in many games just as English and American girls do. Through that education the social life of Egypt is going through a transition.

PRETTIEST BIRD IN WORLD

Quetzal of South Guatemala Takes Beauty Prize Among Feathered Creatures.

What is considered the most beautiful bird in the world is the quetzal of Guatemala. Until within the last few years it was unknown to science, among the feathered creatures, delighting in the silence of high altitudes. It dwells on mountain heights above 7,000 feet in elevation.

The quetzal was the royal bird of the ancient Aztecs, and its plumes were used to decorate the head-dresses and cloaks of their kings. The quetzal's breast is a brilliant scarlet, while its green tail attains a length of three feet. It is about the size of the common pigeon. It nests in holes in rotten trees, which it enlarges with its bill, so as to make a roomy and comfortable residence. The young are hatched totally devoid of feathers.

It is the hardest of all birds to prepare for mounting, for its skin is as tender as so much tissue paper, and the feathers are implanted to such a slight depth that they readily fall out. A specimen is very apt to be spoiled by falling against a branch of a tree on being shot.

Up to 1860, naturalists did not know where the quetzal was to be found. The few specimens which had fallen into their hands had been obtained from Indians, who kept the secret. About that time, however, a collector, visiting that country, got on the track of the birds and went up into the mountains, where he shot a number of them. In ancient times the skins of all birds of this species belonged to the king, and none but members of the royal family were allowed to wear the feathers.

The quetzal belongs to the family of trogons, the genus including forty-six species, thirty-three of which are American. All are very beautiful and extremely rare.

MONEY THAT WENT BEGGING

One of the Most Curious Cases in the History of the Chancery Courts.

Perhaps there is no more curious chapter in the history of the chancery courts than that of two Pittsburgh men. The first had a claim to a small estate abroad, but he did not have the money to pay the claim agency to make a search. So he got a friend to back him. This friend's name was Peterman, and the money he advanced was like a grubstake—he was gambling on his friend's claim proving up. One day, when Peterman was at the claim agency office, he came upon this advertisement in the agency files: "Peterman (Albertus), musician, born in Amsterdam, 1829, son of Charles Frederick and Henrietta Suzanna Gasman. Left for Liverpool, 1856. He is sought for inheritance by M. Contot, advocat, 21 Boulevard St. Germain, Paris." That was the inception of the famous "Kinsey docks" case, the name coming from the fact that the original Peterman was last seen at the Kinsey docks in Liverpool. The claim agency took the matter in hand, traced Peterman's lineage back, and enabled him to establish a good claim to an inheritance of $200,000. That was a case of fortune being thrust upon a man.—Lewis Edwin Theiss, in Harper's Weekly.

Protection.

"Women who are alone in a flat all day take many precautions to insure safety," a gas collector said. "One way that I learned the other day made me feel rather foolish. When I went into the kitchen to read the meter the mistress of the flat stepped to the telephone and said: 'It's all right, Central. It's only the gas man.'"

"Of course, she was under no obligations to explain that cryptic allusion to myself, but she did it voluntarily." "Every time the doorbell rings when I am here alone," she said, "I take the receiver off the hook and leave the telephone open before I go to the door, so that if I should have occasion to scream they could hear me at headquarters and send somebody to my assistance."

"To utilize the telephone company as a private detective bureau struck me as nifty, but I have since learned that a lot of lone women resort to that plan with satisfaction to all concerned."

Motors in West Africa.

The policy of developing southern Nigeria by means of road-making has resulted in the existence of several hundred miles of roads suitable for mechanical transport. Motor cars are used by several Europeans, and two native gentlemen in Lagos have recently acquired cars. In addition to government transport services, the native government of Abeokuta has successfully arranged a small transport service employing six motor wagons. Several motor bicycles are used by natives. There is, however, a good opening for a motor transport service in Lagos in connection with the removal of trade goods from the warehouses to merchants' premises and to the railway, while much remains to be done to bring about a more general use of motor traction throughout the country.

The Finish.

He—What happened? Did they cut her wages?
She—No. She got married.

Better Things in Sight

Frances hurried to the telephone. "Hello!" she said, brightly. But in a minute her voice broke. "No, you have the wrong number."

She put her pretty head on the telephone table and began to cry. "Oh, dear, oh dear! It's always the wrong number. No one ever wants me. Oh, dear, I'm so miserable!"

When she had first looked cheerfully at the new white card by the telephone she did not know that the number would be of no consequence to a solitary soul in Chicago. Occasionally George, her young husband, would call her up from his office, but usually all day long Frances stayed in the apartment with a silent telephone. If it did ring it was somebody who had the wrong number.

So Frances cried. She had cried because she was lonesome, for she knew no one in the big city. She cried because she was tired, homesick and miserable and because her sob was a company for her in a sad sort of way, a bit consoling.

The first few weeks she had not cried. "Be busy and you will be happy," she would say. The tiny flat glistened with cleanliness.

After a while this did not satisfy her. She had reduced her housework and marketing to a system and it took very little time to keep the flat in order. George had seen her dresses again and again and good dinners were a matter of course. At first Frances tried extra housework as an antidote for loneliness, but after her violent scrubbing had taken the shine off the kitchen ware, after she had broken some vases by needless dusting and spilled furniture polish on the rug she stopped. Her trousseau was still new and did not require the attention of sewing or shopping. On the few occasions she had left her neighborhood she had become lost. She had always lived in a small town and the noise of the city streets and the crowds in the stores confused her.

All her experiments had failed. So Frances cried. In the midst of her grief the door bell rang.

"A peddler," Frances said, dolefully. She wiped her eyes and opened the door. It was not a peddler, but a sweet young woman. She carried some letters.

"I am Mrs. Allen from across the hall," she said, timidly. "I brought up your mail."

Frances took the letters mechanically. Then she noticed that the powder was suspiciously thick around the eyes and nose of her visitor. Clearly Mrs. Allen had been crying, too. Impulsively Frances put out her hand.

"I wish you would come in," she said. The two tear-stained young women sat down in the living room. "It was kind of you to bring the letters," Frances began.

"Oh, it's nothing," said Mrs. Allen. A pause. "I couldn't help seeing that one letter was addressed to Mrs. Frances Stevens West. I used to hear my cousin Eula Thomas talk of a Frances Stevens of Plainfield."

"Oh," cried Frances. "That's I. Is Eula your cousin? She is my best friend."

"I heard so much about you," declared Mrs. Allen. "I didn't know you lived in Chicago."

"I haven't very long," said Frances. "Neither have I," said Mrs. Allen. "I don't know many people here."

"I don't know any," Frances replied. "Neither do I," said Mrs. Allen. "Do you enjoy the city?" Frances asked.

"Well," replied Mrs. Allen. "It has so many advantages. There are so many things to do and see. The theaters and concerts are fine. One does not waste time over social trivialities."

"Yes," said Frances. "And the modern conveniences simplify housekeeping so that there is time for the advantages. I—I like it."

"I don't," declared Mrs. Allen with decision.

"Neither do I," said Frances, with sudden decision.

"You see," said Mrs. Allen, growing confidential, "I came from a small town where I knew everybody. I'm not used to the city and I don't know my way about. There is so little to do when my husband is away. Why, sometimes I have asked Central to ring my telephone to know if it's in order."

"That's how it is with me," said Frances. "Don't you want to see my apartment?"

After the tour of inspection, in which Mrs. Allen had been properly enthusiastic, Frances said timidly: "I would be so glad if you would stay to tea."

"I'd love to," she answered. "If you will let me bring over my fresh cake."

The tea party progressed famously. The brides forgot their tears and laid plans for shopping and matinees and promised to introduce their husbands.

Mrs. Allen gave Frances the cake that was left and was presented in turn with a painful of new rolls. The two parted affectionately.

"I am so glad you came over," said Frances. "This is the first time I have had company."

"It is the first time I have been to a party," said Mrs. Allen. "Neither have we," said the brides. And from that time on life in the great city grew pleasant. The loneliness had been dispelled.

GREAT POWER OF THE LION

Only When Seen in the Wilderness Can One Realize What a Great Beast He Is.

"A very large lion I killed stood three feet and nine inches at the withers and of course carried his head higher than that," writes Stewart Edward White in the American Magazine. "The top of the table at which I sit is only two feet three inches from the floor. Coming through the door at my back that lion's shoulder would stand over a foot higher than half-way up. Look at your own writing desk; your own door. Furthermore, he was nine feet and eleven inches in a straight line from nose to end of tail, or over seven feet along the contour of the back. If he were to rise on his hind feet to strike a man down he would stand somewhere between seven and eight feet tall, depending on how nearly he straightened up."

"He weighed just under 600 pounds, or as much as four well-grown specimens of our own 'mountain lion.' I tell you this that you may realize, as I did not, the size to which a wild lion grows. Either menagerie specimens are stunted in growth or their position and surroundings tend to belittle them, for certainly until a man sees old Leo in the wilderness he has not understood what a fine chap he is."

"This tremendous weight is sheer strength. A lion's carcass when the skin is removed is a really beautiful sight. The great muscles lie in ropes and bands; the forearm thicker than a man's leg, the like barrel banded with brown; the flanks overlaid by the long, thick muscles."

"And this power is instinct with the nervous force of a highly organized being. The lion is quick and intelligent and purposeful; so that he brings to his intense activities the concentration of vivid passion—whether of anger, of hunger or of desire."

BODY AS WELL AS BRAIN

Aim of Modern Educators Now Is to Promote the Health of the Child.

It is no longer sufficient that school shall not interfere with the health of the child; it must positively promote it, asserts Dr. Woods Hutchinson. The schoolroom should be tolerated in so far as it makes for health, and not one whit farther. Growth is the chief and only important business of the child; and the duty of education is to assist that growth. Whatsoever is more than this in it, cometh of evil. The school ought to be, and must be made, the wholesomest and healthiest place in the world for the child. The old education concerned itself solely with the mind of the child, and the only part of his body that it took into account at all was the brain-bulb at the upper end of him. The new education considers the whole child, and proposes to develop all his powers—bodily, mental and moral. A healthy, happy, well-taught childhood for every child born into the community is its aim—nothing more, nothing less! No country which is contented with less can call itself civilized. The child is our best crop; the one for which, in fact, all others are raised; and no money, no time, no energy, intelligently spent upon its cultivation, can be wasted.

Jungle's Low Comedian.

In the World's Work, Mr. Stewart Edward White writes:

"The wildebeest is the Jekyll and Hyde of the animal kingdom. His usual and familiar habit is that of a heavy, sluggish animal, like our vanished bison. He stands solid and inert, his head down; he plods slowly forward in single file, his horns swinging, each foot planted deliberately. In short he is the personification of dignity, solid respectability, gravity of demeanor. But then all of a sudden, at any small interruption, he becomes the giddiest of created beings. Up goes his head and tail; he buck jumps, carotids, gambols, kicks up his heels, bounds stifflingly, and generally performs like an irresponsible infant. To see a whole herd at once of these grave and reverend seigneurs suddenly blow up into such light-headed capers goes far to destroy one's faith in the stability of institutions."

Tailors as Literary Men.

One does not look for literary men among tailors, but none the less the trade can claim some illustrious names. John Stow, the antiquary and author of the "Survey of London," for instance, began life as a tailor, and another famous tailoring antiquary was John Speed, one of our early map makers and member of the Society of Antiquaries. And then there was Robert Hill, "the learned tailor," of Birmingham, who contrived to teach himself Greek and Hebrew and became famous as a writer of theological treatises. And George Meredith was born over the tailor's shop.

Pride of the Tenements.

The social worker's fifth floor protegee, on the occasion of the former's third visit, said:

"When you come again won't you please carry a box of paints or an easel or something like that to make folks think you are an artist?"

"Why?" the visitor exclaimed.

"Because," said the woman, "I have told all these other women in the building, who have been rubbing and inquiring about you, that you come here to give my little girl painting lessons, and I want you to help back me up in it."

HOW DUTCH FARMERS LIVE

Cattle Invariably Are Housed Under the Same Roof as the Family.

The typical Dutch farmhouse is square, one-storied, with a pyramid-shaped roof. The space between the apex of the roof and the ceiling of the dwelling part is generally used as a storehouse for winter food for the cattle. The living room door opens into the stable, for the cattle are invariably housed under the same roof as the family. The homes vary little in their furnishings. One always sees bright strips of carpet, a highly polished "center table," where the family Bible is displayed, and a glass dresser, with its shelves filled with rare old brass and Delft ware. The most curious thing about the houses is the sleeping quarters—unique and certainly unhealthy from the modern viewpoint, which requires plenty of fresh air in the bedrooms.

The cheesemaker's family sleeps in beds built in cupboard-like recesses in the wall and as far from the window as possible. There is a door similar to that of a cupboard, and this is kept closed during the day, in order that the bed may be hidden from view. The stuffy condition of this walled-in bedroom can be readily imagined. The linen is always snowy white, and the whole make-up presents an attractive appearance, even to the decorated strap suspended from the ceiling and used to assist the occupant of the couch to arise. The visitor is always welcome at the cheese farms, but the visit must be made early in the morning if the cheesemaking is to be seen.—Leslie's.

WAS AFRAID OF EXCITEMENT

Reasons Advanced by Man Who Wanted to Get Off Bond of Mail Contractor.

The departments in Washington receive some queer letters. Below is given verbatim a letter received last November by the bureau that has charge of the bonds of mail contractors, from a man who wished to get off a bond. It is unique. The last sentence contains a valuable suggestion to others who dislike to receive disagreeable news, especially on business matters. The letter tells how he signed the bond merely to oblige a friend and then continues with this personal history:

"I risk My life to go to the lecture this fall I have Done all I can for you office Men at the White house. So I Wood like if you office Men Wood get me out of trouble so I cod Rest I haint Work one Day for 13 years on count of Palpitation of the Heart Some times I can't bare the clock Strike So you no My heart fs Weak you office Men Do all you can to get Mee out of trouble. If they had told Mee the letten Was 4 year I Never Wood sind the bond I thought it Was 1 year So I Was told when you Rite Don't Rite any thing that will excite Mee it Will Fly to My Heart."—Kansas City Star.

Don't Be a Dowdy.

The best-dressed woman is not necessarily the one who spends the most money. Time, thought, and taste tell to the advantage of dress. Those who persist in speaking of carelessness in dress as if it were a merit are greatly mistaken. To be pleasantly, though not elaborately dressed, and as attractive as she may be, is every woman's duty, and the dress that suits the occasion confers dignity upon the wearer. "Why do you wear a pretty bow in your hair and take so much pains to have a becoming tie?" some one asked the teacher of a large class in the public school. "I wear my ribbons and put on my bows and make myself attractive because I have to influence for good fifty boys every day," was the reply. The teacher was right. Her boys believed in her much more than they would had she been a dowdy.—Christian Herald.

Charity Box.

Take an old trunk or large box and call it your charity box. Into it put all the articles, which you have finished—pictures, magazines, books to read and old ones for scrap books, pretty cards, clothing and all sorts of wearing apparel, pieces of silk, cloth and lace for dolls' clothing, envelopes with foreign stamps, all the little things you have finished with. Every once in a while go through it and dispose of its articles to orphan asylums, hospitals, etc. Then when you are called on for contributions to rummage sales all you have to do is to go to the box and not have to "rummage" around.

Missing the Point.

Representative Buckner of Colorado, apropos of a tariff argument about sugar, said to a Washington correspondent: "Oh, well, those men don't see my point. They miss my point as badly as the old lady missed her son's." "Mother," a young man said, "would you believe that it takes 5,000 elephants a year to make our piano keys and billiard balls?" Make our piano keys and billiard balls!" cried the old lady. "Well, I always understood that elephants were intelligent creatures, but I never knew before that they'd been trained to make piano keys and billiard balls."

Everybody Pretty Green.

"It's no wonder that Cain turned out so badly."
"How so?"
"Neither his parents nor anybody else in the neighborhood had had any experience in bringing up children."

TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING THE BASIS OF SUCCESS.

were guests at the American House.

Miss Mary Maholsky who spent the past two weeks with Three Lakes relatives and friends departed for Chicago on Monday. An aunt accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and children of Wausau and Mrs. Gaberlein of Edgar constituted an auto party who came here to visit with Mr. and Mrs. J.
B. Looy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson attended the Anderson-Scott wedding at Rhinelander, on Tuesday. They also took advantage of the county fair
while there.

The concrete work on the new warehouses is completed. The frame work will be commenced next week.

Miss Fannie Erickson is a Rhinelander visitor this week.

Quite a number of our citizens have been drawn as jurors for the

Ex-chairman Kloe, while butchering
a calf early last Wednesday morning, had the misfortune of badly stabbing himself with a butcher knife.

Dr. Thorpe of Eagle River was summoned to administer medical aid.

Mr. Russell of New York, a brother of Charles W., is here visiting at the Russell home. It will be remembered that the was a Three Lakes visitor some five years ago
and is a most pleasant man to meet.
His line of business is mining.

Chas. Richards, Jr., local editor of the Eagle River Review, paid us a very pleasant call on Monday. This was Mr. Richards' first visit to Three Lakes and he was fairly interested with our town. Mr. Richards is a very pleasant gentleman to meet.
The new firm are beginning to make the Review look like a newspaper.

Mrs. Ewert and daughter Edna, departed for their Chicago home on Wednesday. They spent the greater part of the summer at Three Lakes.

A large party of friends of Mrs.
J. N. McCarty gathered at the I.
O. O. T. hall on Monday evening and gave her a pleasant birthday surprise party. A general good time was enjoyed by all who attended.

Farmer F. S. Campbell was a busy man on Monday loading a car of blooded stock to be exhibited at the Oneida county fair this week. Mr.
N. A. Coleman of Clear Water Lake
furnished part of the stock. Aside from the stock Mr. Campbell collected a fine display of vegetables and fruits and we feel confident that
F. S. will return with some blue ribbon and it won't be bottle goods either. Edward Lavender accompanied the car in order to give the stock proper attention.

THEY ARE MARRIED

Miss Hilda Epler and Mr. Charles Swanson were declared man and wife by Rev. Stebbins at Clear Water Lake last Tuesday afternoon.
They departed on Wednesday morn-ing's south bound passenger for Fort Wayne, Ind., their future home.
A large delegation of friends were on hand to bid them their final farewell and we are positive the young couple will remember the occasion
for some time to come.

The "Three Lakes Page" extends congratulation to the young couple and trusts that their married life
may be long and happy.

Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

most every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by

THE POTATO SITUATION

Those who are inclined to be frightened at the fact that the potato crop in the United States is a large one this year in comparison with last year, should take into consideration that the acreage is but a fraction larger than last year and that the crop indications, while materially better than last year, are about the same as the ten-year average. Again the fact should be noted that last year 16,000,000 bushels of potatoes were shipped into the United States and that there were no potatoes worth noting in the southwest with the result that prices were beyond the reach of the multitude. With reasonable prices there will probably be at least ten millions of consumers of potatoes this year who were counted out last year
because of prohibitive prices.

In the light of these facts, there is no reason why potatoes should not command at least average prices
this year.

ANY RURAL HOME CAN HAVE SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM

Among the great needs of country
homes are a running water system
and a healthful, cleanly method of disposing of sewage, so as to prevent fly-breeding grounds around the back door. Farmers, as well as city people, appreciate a bath room, laundry kitchen sink, etc. All of these conveniences are made possible
by using a concrete septic tank for sewage disposal; the total materials for which cost only $76.50, $15 of which can be saved by furnishing your own gravel. Maintenance costs nothing; there is no odor if properly installed and two hours' work per year will keep it in order. How it works and how to make it are described in a circular just issued by the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. Models of it were exhibited last week at the state fair, and created much interest.

The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected. For sale by All Dealers.

PARRISH

A farewell surprise party was given on Miss Anna Burby Thursday evening at the hotel, and a good time was enjoyed by all. The first part of the evening was spent playing games after which ice cream
and cake was served.

Dr. Bayer of Gleason, was in town
Thursday.

A. Hurlbutt and family were at Wausau, Saturday.

Mrs. Millard Love was at Antigo
Monday.

Miss Sarah Desureau is spending the week at Antigo.

Miss Anna Burby left Saturday morning for Antigo. From there she will go to her home at Chelsea.

Mrs. Floyd Hurlbutt and son Wayne visited at Antigo last week.

Mrs. Will Hughes spent Wednesday and Thursday with her parents at Monico.

Miss Veda Marsh spent Sunday
at Antigo.

WHY NOT USE GOATS?

It is strange that the new farmers of Oneida county do not utilize the services of Angora goats in the clearing of land. Only a few small herds of these busy little animals are owned in this county.
Their work in doing away with underbrush would prove invaluable

PARENTS AT HACKLEY

"Bugs" Raymond, former pitcher
with the New York team of the Na-

Chicago from injuries inflicted by Fred Cigrantz at a base ball game,
was the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C.
Raymond, who reside at Hackley.
Raymond was a popular base ball player when he followed that profession. Cigrantz was arrested by detectives and admitted that he hit Raymond on the head with part of a thrower pot during a quarrel.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE LIBRARY

There is a Steady Increase in The Circulation of Reading Matter

June 30, 1912.
To the Board of Directors of the Rhineland Public Library,
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I have the honor to submit the 15th
annual report of the Rhineland Public Library for the year ending June 30, 1912.

Circulation

It is a pleasure to report that the statistics show a steady increase in the circulation of reading matter.
The number of books and periodicals circulated during the year was 23,799, of which number 13,176 was from the adult department and 10, 623 from the children's room. This was an increase of nearly 2300 over the circulation two years ago and 1500 more than last year.

This means that the people are using the library more, and finding out what benefit and pleasure they may get from it.

Periodicals

A large number of periodicals are taken covering a wide range of subjects including engineering, building,
gardening, house decoration, home
making and cooking, dress making,
etc., besides the magazines for general reading. These are circulated until they are bound, after which they can be read at the library.

The circulation of this class of literature has been larger than ever before.

Several citizens have come to the aid of the library, by giving periodicals and newspapers for the reading
table after they have been read at home, and their kindness has been much appreciated.

Accessions

During the past year 328 books have been purchased for the library, 29
volumes of magazines have been added by binding, and 67 have been added by gift.

Among the most important accessions have been the new volume to the set of Larned's History for Ready Reference which takes up all the important events from 1901 to 1911, and the Standard Bible Dictionary by Jacobus, a work which will be appreciated by all Bible students and by general readers as well.

Two table books, beautifully illustrated in color with scenes from Canada and Scotland have also been added.

From the sale of paper which
some of the young people generously helped to get ready, an extra supply of children's books is soon to be purchased.

Registration

The new borrowers for the year
numbered 358 and the number withdrawn 197. At present there are 2248 borrowers.

The registration period for the library is three years. When the time expires, if the cards have not been used for a long time, the names
are dropped unless it is known that the persons still live in the city. Many cards have been withdrawn this year, so that the list will not be filled with the names of those who have left the city.

Reading Room

A large number of readers have made use of the reading room during the past year.

Through the change of lighting,
readers have found a great improvement in this room. Throughout the library the ball globes with the old carbon lamps have been replaced by holophane shades and tungsten
lights, making the rooms much more attractive in appearance, and adding greatly to the comfort of the patrons.

Reference Work

The character of the reference work done for the Woman's Club and Monday Club was practically the same as last year as was also the work done with pupils in their school
debates and other work.

It is hoped that the people of Rhineland will feel perfectly free to ask for any assistance at the library they may wish in looking up material which may be found here
and such assistance as is possible will gladly be given.

Inter-Library Loans

Several libraries have come to our assistance during the year by lending material which could not be procured here. The libraries at Antigo, Marinette, Madison, Wisconsin
Library Commission, University Extension department, and the State Historical Library have loaned books
for which grateful acknowledgement is made.

School Work

The librarian visited the schools
from time to time, giving talks to the different grades, calling attention to books of special interest and speaking on the care of books. That these talks were also an excellent way of advertising the library was shown by immediate results when children and their parents who had never been to the library before came for readers' cards.

The High school and the grades
have had special shelves for books
on the required list, and the librarian and assistant have attended to their circulation and care.

Special talks were given in the eighth grades on the classification of books, their place on the shelves and the use of the catalog and indexes.

The classes from the training school

came to the library for an hour's session where they were given a talk
by the librarian on reference books
and the use of the indexes to periodicals literature.

Story Hour

Two story hours were conducted
this year for ten or twelve weeks
in the club room, and they were well attended.

Miss Esther Newell told the stories for the fourth and fifth grades, and Miss Klute Seibel for the second and third grades. Their kindness and interest was much appreciated both by the children and the librarian.

Pictures

Many pictures have been loaned to the teachers this year, who are finding that this department of the library may be a great help to them in their work. 239 pictures were loaned this year. Pictures are also loaned to any of the patrons who can take use of them.

Foreign Libraries

Twice during the year, the German and Scandinavian libraries for which the library subscribes, have been changed.

The circulation of these for the year has been 618, an increase of 118 over last year.

Many of the readers of these foreign languages are using them, and it is feared that more will find out that they are at the library and may be loaned free of charge.

Advertising

The local press has been ever
ready to print all library notices, lists, annotations of books, etc., for which we wish to express our thanks.

Large printed cards upon which was the library advertisement were posted in public places, and small notices were distributed where it was thought they would be most useful.

Rent Collection

This year a small rent collection of books has been put in the library in order that with additional copies of the most popular books the patrons
may be more easily accommodated.

Improvements

It is with great pleasure that we can record the addition of a new roof to the library. That it has been needed for a long time was self-evident to any one coming into the building. The walls are also soon to be redecorated.

To the City Council who appropriated the money for these improvements is due the gratitude not only of the Board of Directors and librarian, but of every citizen of Rhineland et.

Gifts

Magazines and other periodicals
have been received from the following persons: Mrs. C. Ball, Mrs. Billings
Mrs. Bronson, Mrs. W. D. Brown, C.
P. Crosby, Christian Science S. S., Mrs. Daniels, W. C. Hawkins, Mrs.

membered the library with cut flowers for the desk.

Endowment Fund

During the past year the interest on the endowment fund has amounted to nearly $50.00 which is used solely for the purchase of new books.
It is hoped that this fund which has been started by the Woman's Club and now amounts to $155
will be the nucleus of a much larger
one. It will be money worthily invested by those who can afford to help increase the fund.

Library Hours

The library is open for reading and circulation every week day from 2 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m. Saturdays 9 to 12 a. m. In addition.

During July and August the evening hours from Monday to Friday
are from 8 to 1.

The library is closed on holidays.
In conclusion, I wish to thank the Library Board for their cordial support and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,
HARRIET L. ALLEN
Librarian.

MAKES SEVERAL ARRESTS

Chief Straub Does Good Work in Secret Service

Maurice Straub head of the city's police department, returned Monday from Milwaukee where he spent a week as one of the government
secret service force on the state fair grounds.

Although the work as a government detective was rather new to Chief Straub he performed such efficient service as to command the attention of veteran members of the department. He had been on duty little less than two hours on the first day of the fair
when he arrested a "con" man who was endeavoring to film film someone from two unsuspecting country cousins. Later he nabbed two pick pockets as they were in the act of extracting a roll of greenbacks from Ezra Scodgrass of "Pumpkin Center."
It was a handsome bunch of lettuce and contained over $700. The brother from the rural "destricts"
felt so grateful toward Maurice that he invited him down to the Center for a week next summer after fly time.

The chief also made a half dozen or more arrests of disorderly and suspicious characters. He was requested to again join the service at next year's state fair.

Evil of Worrying.
By constant worry the power of self-control is lost. The ability to be cheerful, courageous and sometimes even interesting, is gradually undermined.
Eventually this affects the health, the appetite is banished and the digestion and probably the heart affected.
The unhappiness shows in the face.
Lines appear between the eyes, the eyes look dull, and the skin unhealthy
and probably wrinkled.

Queer Sign Posts.
In the neighborhood of Warmbrunn,
in the Silesian mountains, there are to be found some very curious signposts.
One seen by a writer in the Wide World Magazine represents a farm laborer sharpening his scythe, on which is inscribed, in the old Silesian dialect,
"Too Giers Village, One Hour." The signpost is well carved and painted in natural colors, so that it appears very life-like. Another signpost in the same district represents a schoolboy carrying a slate bearing the name of the nearest village, toward which the boy is pointing.

So Thoughtful of Him.
Bridegroom (two days after wedding)—"I haven't seen anything yet of that $5,000 check from your father."
Bride—"Well, you see, dear, papa heard that your father had already given us one, and he knew we shouldn't care to have duplicate presents."

Recentful Recollections.
"Did they make you recite Little Drops of Water when you were a child?" "Yes," replied Colonel Stillwell. "And it didn't stop there. When I grew up they tried to insist on my adopting them as a beverage."

carries the penalty of hard labor.

HOW TO PREPARE GOOD SEED CORN

County Representative Luther Gives a Few Helpful Hints
To Farmers

"Can you grow anything in Oneida county?" Did any one ever see a finer exhibit of truck crops anywhere than was shown at the county fair? That potato exhibit was a wonder. The grains, grasses including alfalfa and corn exhibits were splendid. What silage corn was shown! Some one recently left at the office of the County Representative a half bushel of great potatoes, a bundle of as fine ears as were ever grown and a bundle of the greatest clover that ever was. The clover is shoulder high after it is cut.
No country can beat that. These samples came from the farm of Michael Grossman east of Robbins in Sugar Camp township. Mr. Grossman only a few years ago came into this country with limited means and began the job of making himself a farm. He has a fine farm now and produces the stuff mentioned.

Government reports indicate a 3, 000,000 bushel corn crop in the United States this season. This is gratifying. For last spring it was found that seed corn was in many localities a failure. Good seed corn sold for $1 and $5 a bushel. Wisconsin had a lot of seed corn, thanks to Professor R. A. Moore and the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Association.
Now the members of this association are pretty largely young men who have taken the Short Course at the College of Agriculture and have learned how to select and cure seed corn. This is the way they do it.
They carry bags over the shoulder and go through the corn before it is cut and select good looking ears
that are four on the stalks about hip high. These are picked and husked and put into the bags. The corn is then taken to the barn. Many of these young men have built corn dry kilns where the corn can be dried out by means of warm air heated with stoves. These kilns are supplied with plenty of ventilation so that the damp air is carried away.
The corn is thoroughly and promptly dried. Seed from this corn will be found nearly perfect in germination. Practically all of it will grow.
But many men cannot afford corn dry kilns. So they take stout strings long enough to hold the ears
and tie the corn with this string
so that the ears will not touch
each other and then they hang this string of corn up on a stretched wire
put up over some place where an air draft is passing. This dries out the corn pretty well and about all of it will grow. The wire is tied to the strings of corn so that the mice cannot get at the corn.
Now this way of fixing up seed corn can be used by any farmer. Corn dried in this way is almost sure to be good seed. Corn can be grown in Oneida county but we must grow

and produce our own seed, seed that is acclimated to this county. If the farmers will take pains to select their corn in this way and to cure
it out by either method suggested,
they will have splendid seed which will surely grow for themselves or which they can sell at a high price.
Field corn, sweet corn, or pop corn
should be cured out the same way.
It will pay. The boys of the Short Course in the Training School who had corn given to them to plant
should save every ear that is good for seed and dry it out in the same way as suggested. If these boys will do this, they can become seed corn kings and make money. Think of the great region up here in the north that is waiting for a better seed corn. It will pay any farmer to try out the seed corn business.
Why not cut this out, pin it to the wall and try it out this fall?

It is a poor way to let seed corn stand in the shock and be rained upon. Corn cannot be selected from shock husked corn as well as it can from the field. Seed corn should never be hung from the mill, or the end of the barn. It should not be hung up in a place where there is no ventilation or draft of air.
To dry out seed corn right the moisture that gets out of the corn
should be carried away and the ears
should not hang in this dampness.
Corn in a damp air will be almost sure to have some sort of mold upon it that will grow when the corn is planted and get its food by eating up the kernel of corn. Corn with the seeds of mold upon it will seldom grow.

TRUE VALUE OF OUR LIFE

Some Great Emergency Furnishes the Test Which Makes Clear the Real Valuation.

There is so much for us to do, so many wrongs to be made right and so many evils to be remedied that a consideration of the petty bickerings of life is far beneath our notice. So long as life runs smoothly in its usual channel we are inclined to attach great importance to the minor details of existence and in time yield largely to their influence.

The terrible test of some great emergency, however, makes clear life's true values. The greatest success that can be attained, the largest fortunes that can be achieved, the highest station that can be achieved
are as nothing in the closing hours of a man's life. Then it is that he scrutinizes his part for the least vestige of personal good which he has wrought, and it is that memory alone
which is worth anything at all to him.
He cannot derive much comfort from the wealth he has accumulated, or the social distinction he has attained, but he can and does rely for his eternal reward upon the unselfish and simple service he has rendered for the welfare of others. The life upon which we place so high a value must end
some time, sooner perhaps than we imagine. We must build for the future, indeed, not blindly, not selfishly,
not brutally, but in that spirit of brave fellowship which measures up to every emergency.

SAVED FROM SHARK'S JAWS

Veracious Account of the Experience of a Wrecked Passenger on the Atlantic.

They were telling stories in the smoke room.

"I'll tell you how I was once saved
from a shark," said a stranger, who had listened with growing interest. "I was crossing the Atlantic, and I had my bike with me. About half-way a storm came on, and the ship began to sink. All the boats were filled with people and launched. There were even then a few left, myself being among them.

"An idea struck me, and I rushed down to where my machine was stored. I hurriedly removed the front wheel and then took off the tire. I took my pump and blew up the tube
until it was the size of a life-buoy.
Then I placed it under my arm-pits
and jumped overboard.

"After floating about for a while a shark began making overtures to me.
Just as it was going to swallow me it bit the inner tube, which exploded and blew me clean into America and the shark into little bits."

An Appreciation.

We wish to thank our congressmen
for a nifty package of garden seeds
sent from Washington for our special use. It is nice to be thus remembered by one who is far away in a strange land, and it beats a picture postcard forty ways. There is a practical value to a package of congressional garden seeds which appeals. We had them cooked up for breakfast this morning, and, while they were fair, it must be remembered, that congress has gone Democratic recently, and the favor of the garden seeds is bound to be somewhat more biting and pessimistic than formerly, but we thank the thoughtful congressman just the same. We have eaten his garden seeds several years, and they are all right.

Customs of Other Days.

Drinking tricks figured in diplomacy
in the time of Henry VIII. Mrs. Henry Cust quotes the king's challenge to Hubertus, the representative of the Palgrave Frederick. He sent for two huge goblets, filled with wine and beer respectively, and gave the envoy his choice for a "drinking out" test. In vain Hubertus pleaded that his master had actually instituted a company of the golden ring to put down such contests, any member who broke the prohibition to lose his ring and give $1 to the poor. Henry, anxious to prove that the Englishman was the better man, promised to find the forfeits himself and drank his beer at a draft, while it took the German four gulps to account for the wine.

Joy in Serving.
One has made a genuine discovery when one has grasped the fact that joy is a thing that is fast linked to service. Then one will cease indulging in idle, feverish dreams of millions and prominence. For the man who is not somehow serving humanity invariably gets a dark brown taste in his soul.

No Limit to His Cleverness.
Two men, one eighty years old and one ninety years old, who live in an institution near Washington, had a quarrel that developed into a fist fight. The eighty-year-old pugilist won. Later he was boasting of his prowess. "He said I couldn't lick him!" exclaimed the successful fighter. "God darn his skin, I could have licked him if he had been a hundred years old!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Sure Enough Primitive Town.
Aden is a primitive place. Drinking and bathing water is drawn from the sea, condensed and delivered to residents in wagons at one-half cent a gallon. There is no plumbing and modern bathroom fittings are conspicuous by their absence. Wash tubs are used for bathing purposes. The authorities have considered piping water into Aden from Habel, about thirty miles distant, but have come to no decision in the matter as yet.—London Globe.

Most Powerful Poison.
The most powerful poison known is reported to have been extracted by a German chemist from the seeds of the ricinus, the familiar castor oil plant, and has been attracting much attention on account of its remarkable properties. Its power is estimated to be so great that a gram—about a third of an ounce—would kill a million and a half guinea pigs.

Where You Can See Meridian Line.
The meridian of the earth, the scientist will tell you, is an imaginary line running from north to south. It is not generally known, however, that near Greenwich observatory the meridian line can be actually seen and walked upon. It is deeply grooved in stone, and is laid in the footpath that leads round the observatory.—Wide World Magazine.

Quashed.
Manger—"Could you do the land-lord in 'The Lady of Lyons'?" After—"Well, I should say so! I've done a good many."—Tattler.

Steam of the Earth.
If dry earth is wet suddenly the heat emitted is due chiefly to the affinity of potter's clay and humus for water. That affinity is so powerful that the two substances release 20 and 30 calories per every two kilograms.—Harper's Weekly.

OUR CUSTOMERS are so satisfied with our service, our delivery, our clean market, and still more important,

OUR FINE MEATS, that they soon become pleased patrons.

It isn't long until their friends hear about it and come regularly, too.
